THE HARVEST

We hand harvested from our 'Legacy' Block, and whole cluster pressed. This allowed a light maceration before a low temperature fermentation process.

THE VINTAGE

Oregon experienced an ideal growing season for grapes, with close to perfect temperatures and well-timed rainfall. The 2024 vintage is considered 'spectacular' by many.

"The 'Legacy' Block of Pinot Noir is a Swiss clone known for its resiliency - probably why we are still getting a beautiful crop from these 'old' vines. After we hand-harvested this fruit, we did a whole cluster press to capture a beautifully delicate color and structure. After the pressing, we fermented the wine at a low temperature to preserve the aromatics."
